The funeral of Miss Jennie D. Rafelt was attended yesterday afternoon from the home of her parents at Mulberry and Taylor avenue. Interment was made at Dunmore cemetery. Tonight the annual ball of Division No. 3, Ancient Order of Hibernians, will be held at Music hall. Bauer's orchestra will furnish the music and handsome souvenir programmes will be distributed. The George A. Baker Opera company will begin a week's engagement at the Academy of Music this afternoon when "Said Pasha" will be presented, "Bocca-cio" will be the attraction this evening. Scranfonians who do not care to make preparations for a New Years dinner today should go around to the West Minister, where Proprietor Truman has prepared a New Year's menu of more than usual ex-

The board of directors of the Sacred Music society held its first meeting on Saturday. Those present were A. W. Decker, president; E. H. Ripple, secretary and treasurer; E. L. Fuller and Tallie Morgan. Plans were made for the coming year.

Judge Smith's room in the court house was renovated last week and put in readiness for Judge Edwards to move in. Judge Smith's law books and effects were taken back to the office in the Commonwealth building that he occupied before his appointment to the position of ad-ditional law judge.

"To the Business Public" Scranton Directory, 1894.

I appeal to my Scranton friends who have aided me in building up the Directory of Scranton for the past seven years to continue their support in preference to strangers and tyros who do not know the first rudiments of the Directory business, and who propose to reap the benefit of my past labor. When I came to Scranton you know how incomplete and inaccurate the Scranton Directory was. You know now 190. 191. know how incomplete and inaccurate the Scranton Directory was. You know now it gives perfect satisfaction. I feel that your interests as well as mine entitle mo to your support. I have brought the Scranton Directory up to a standard socond to none in the state. Before my advent the Scranton Book was printed in 198, New York; since that time Scranton has been given the printing. The book will be out earlier than ever, will contain a 101, new map, new street directory, and many new features. Hold your orders for Williams till his canvassers call.

LIST COMPILED BY CHIEF FERBER

Upward of Three Hundred Keys Given Out by the Fire Department for the Sixty Fire Boxes in the City-Some of the Keys Are Not Yet Located.

Chief Ferber has compiled the following list of persons who hold fire alarm keys, and their addresses. TRIB-UNE readers in looking over the list can see where the nearest key is located, and the knowledge may some time prove valuable.

Some of the keys have not as yet been located, notwithstanding the herculean efforts put forth by the chief. He hopes that a perusal of the list as here published may have the effect of inducing holders of keys whose names do not appear, to communicate with

The Bachelo:s flushed with the success of their sixth annual ball held at the Wyoming on Friday evening, are already thinking of the preparations that will be necessary for their seventh an-nual to be held next year. They are determined that it shall eclipse all previous balls in point of brilliancy and splendor.

On Friday night the Idlewile Social club of the West Side, gave a select masquerade party in Mear's hall. There were about fifty present and the costumes were many of them original. All of tuem were very beautiful

The Leiderkranz Singing society will hold its annual "fools' sitting" or New Year's festival on Jan. 15.

The Keystone Social club, of the West Side, will hold its annual ball in Mears' Hall Thursday evening. This year the club will hold a masquerade.

The Syracuse University Gles club will give a concert at the Elm Park church next Friday evening. The Syracuse organization comes well recommended, after appearing in a number of New York cities.

THE BAKER COMPANY THIS WEEK. It Will Delight Old Friends with

Wealth of Melody. The George A. Baker Opera company, which never brought a poor en-tertainment to this city, will be at the Academy of Music all of this week, producing operas of unusual strength, this afternoon giving "Said Pashs," and in the evening "Boccacio."

Of the work of this company in Boston the Herald of that city says: 'The singers from thus being strangers fairly sang themselves into the heartiest good will of their audience, and their director compelled an equally quick recognition of his abilities. . The first night was a triumph, and there will evidently be many more of the same sort during the coming weeks. Of the performances as a whole it may be said frankly that the company sings and acts the 'Beggar Student' as well and, in some ways' better than it was sung and acted during the memorable run of this opera at the Bijou theater some ten years ago.

PERSONAL.

Matthew J. Mannion, of Brooklyn, N. Y., is visiting friends in the city.

James Nailin, of Brooklyn, N. Y., is the guest of his parents on Pittston avenue. Misses Minnie and B. L. Gibbons, of the West Side, are guests of Carbondale friends. W. H. Coyne, of this city, attended the social of the Crescent Social club, of Car-bondale, on Friday night

Miss Winton, of this city, was the guest of Colonel Beaumont, of Wilkes-Barre, on Friday and attended the annual assembly. Misses Maggie McDouaid and Lizzie Lundy, of Carboudale, are the guesta of Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Mitchell, of Ash street.

A Hearty Welcome Will Be Given to Every Person Who Visits the Rooms.

EXCELLENT PROGRAM PREPARED

Bauer's Full Orchestra Will Render Mnsic During the Afternoon and Evening-Prominent Vocalists Will Sing During the Day-Entertainment to Be Given in the Gymnasium.

Today's reception at the Young Men's Christian association rooms will be attended by thousands of Scrantonians who will be given a royal welcome by the reception committee and treated to refreshments and a feast of music by the leading singers of the city. The reception will begin at 2 o'clock and will continue until ten this even-ing. There will be music all day, and those that will attend will have a most enjoyable time. Bauer's full orchestra has been engaged for the afternoon and evening, and will discourse the finest music. There will be solos, duets, quartettes and choruses, accompanied by piano

The refreshments will consist of cake and coffee, and will be served in the dining room from 2 in the afternoon till

In addition to the musical attrac-tions Professer Weston has prepared a fine programme consisting of eight numbers, including a game of basket ball for the gymnasium. This part of the day's exercise will begin at 8 be in the reading room, which has been tastefully decorated with plants and of Wilkes-Barre, a sister, also survives evergreens. The platform is near the him. The funeral will take place from front of the building, and the singers can be heard in every part of the building. In the evening there will be music in the reading room and in the arge hall, as it is expected that the hall will not accommodate the crowds that will be present.

YOUNG WOMEN TO ENTERTAIN.

Excellent Programme Arranged for Today at the Y. W. C. A.

Today, from 4 to 10 p.m., the members of the Young Women's Christian Association will hold their annual reception in their rooms and welcome their gentlemen as well as lady friends. A pleasing programme, consisting of readings, violin, piano and vocal selections has been arranged. Among those who will entertain are Mr. Weisenflue, Miss Winton, Davis, Misses Brown, Hall and La Rue. In the evening from 7.30 to 8.30 an entertainment will be given in the gymnasium by Miss Lois L. Shardlow assisted by pupils from the ladies classes and the junior class. Misses Josie Black and Caragan will sing during this hour. From 8 30 to 9 30 selections will be rendered by the Elm Park orchestra. Refreshments will be served during the hours of reception. The invitation from the asseciation is extended to all having a friendly interest in the work.

TRIBUNE OFFICE. Cor. Penn Ave. and Spruce St. DEATH OF EDWARD C. LYNDE.

This community received a severe shock upon the announcement of the sudden death of Eiward C. Lynde, assistant secretary of the Luckawanna Iron and Steel company last Saturday morning. For several weeks Mr. Lynde had been suffering from a severe attack of pleurisy and rheumatism, from which he had apparently sufficiently recovered to attend to the per-formance of his office duties, and he was at his desk Friday until after 5 o'clock. In the evening he remarked that he was feeling fairly wall and re-tired early. At about 4 o'clock in the morning his family was alarmed by another sudden and severe attack of the disease which had reached his heart and in a few minutes he passed peacsfully away. Dr. H. V. Logan, who had been immediately summoned, arrived soon afterward, bus said nothing could have been done to prevent the fatal termination of this attack.

Mr. Lynde was born in Wilkes-Barre

July 22, 1831, and was the son of John W. Lyade who settled in the Wyoming Valley in 1830. The latter was a descendant of Joseph Lyade who came from England to Boston in 1712. Edward C Lynde received his education in the Wilkes Barrs Academy which stood on the public square where now stands the Luzerne county court house.
At the age of of sixteen he entered the employment of a wholesale dry goods house in New York; but in 1852 returned to Wilkes-Barre and accepted a position as accountant in the office of the Baltimore Coal company.

On June 10, 1838, the firm of Scrantons & Platt, of this city, became merged into the Lackawanna Iron and Coal Company, and Mr. Lynde, who had applied a short time previously for a posi tion in their office, was secured by S. T. Scranton, then president of the company, to take the position of book-keeper. He assisted materially in clos ing up the accounts of the old firm and in opening the books of the new corporation. He was an excellent accountant, and rose rapidly in the esteem of the officers of the company. On the re-tirement of William Henry, Jr., he became its chief bookkeeper and accountant. In December, 1859, he was elected secretary of the company. A few years thereafter, it having been desided to remove the main office to New York, involving the necessity of having the secretary at that point, his title was changed to assistant secretary, although his duties and responsibilities remained the same. Thus, for over forty years he had been in the employ of the Lackawanna Iron and Steel company and its predecessor, and of him it may be said, "Well done, good and faithful servant.'

Mr. Lynde was a courteous and genal gentleman and of exceedingly fine artistic taste. It has been frequently said of him that a most excellent artist was spoiled in developing an excellent accountent. He was never so happy as when entertaining his friends either in his pleasant home on Clay avenue or in his delightful cottage on Harvey's lake. He will be greatly missed and sincerely mourned by many friends who will bear in grateful remembrance his courteous attentions. He was a charter mem-ber of Peter Williamson lodge, No. 323, Free and Accepted Masons and received from her the highest honors it was in her power to bestow, and for nearly thirty years he has been her treasurer. In 1855 he married Miss Gertrude Murray who survives him as do three children-Edward H. Lynde superintendent at the South Steel mills; clock.

There is that pile of Harper's, Frank Leslie's, McClure's, Re-view of Reviews, North American, Cenview of Reviews, North American, Century, etc., that you have read. They are a joy forever, but not a thing of beauty. Our Mr. Schwencker can transform them so that they will become the brightest and handsomest volumes in your library. As soon as you read this will you not get all the numbers together, before they are lost or soiled, and bring them to The Tribung binder. A few cents will give you some binders? A few cents will give you some beautiful books that will take the place of those rough and ragged magazines.
